

Objective Our main objective is to relocate your business as efficiently, and cost effectively as possible while minimizing any interference in your day to day business. Commercial relocation requires skillful training that comes only from commercial experience. It is our knowledge and dedication to customer satisfaction that makes Dumbo Moving & Storage the best choice for your moving needs.

Our Commercial Division At Dumbo Moving & Storage we understand that commercial relocation is a specialized field, and its success depends on our detailed knowledge of commercial properties, project management, and most importantly, a team of professional movers and skilled foremen. Let's walk you through a generic office relocation scenario.

I. An experienced corporate relocation consultant will assess your place of business and devise a comprehensive moving plan that is in sync with your preferences.

II. At your convenience and upon your request, we will deliver the necessary boxes and moving material before the day of the move.

III. Our special commercial crew will arrive to pack your entire office; Computers, copiers, faxes, pictures, files and furniture will be properly wrapped, labeled and padded. Your new office space will be tagged to ensure an appropriate placement of items. Special covering and protection will be set around your office and elevator, according to the building's requirements.

IV. Closely supervised by a foreman and a corporate relocation consultant, the items will be delivered to your new office space. All items will be placed according to the floor plan, and any furniture assembly will be done.
